VOL. XXXXIX: NO. 31 REDWOOD CITY, CAL., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1907. ESTABLISHED, 1859.

Buy in the Beautiful Gray Tract

One of the best subdivisions in San Mateo County. No adobe; the finest of soil—loam and gravel; beautiful oak trees, and situated on the Woodside road. This road is soon to be made into a beautiful boulevard. NOW is the time to buy. Only a few blocks from the new electric line. Don't let all outsiders come here and buy up the best. These lots are all 50x109 feet; no 25-feet frontage here. I want you to call at the office and I will show you what these lots are, and I would like to see our own people get in on the ground floor—not all strangers. About forty of these lots have been placed on the market for $250 each; 10 per cent cash, remaining payments to suit purchaser.

A Brave Man.

Nicolas, Chevalier d'Assas, a French captain in the Auvergne regiment, born at Vigan, in the Languedoc, while making a reconnoissance during the night of Oct. 15, 1760, at Klostercamp, in Westphalia, met a column of the enemy which was advancing in silence to surprise the French army. He was ordered to keep silent or else they would kill him. D'Assas at once cried out, "A moi Auvergne—the enemy is here!". He was killed on the spot.—Bouillet's Dictionary of History.

IMPURE FOODS.

Tricks of the Trades Recorded by a Diarist of 1783.

"The pure food question is as old," said an antiquary, "as the hills."

He took down a volume bound in gray calf.

"This is the diary," he said, "of Heinrich Cruger, born in Amsterdam in 1724; died in New York in 1870. Listen to the pure food kick that Henry put up in 1783."

The antiquary read:

"Monday, 18th October—If I would drink water I must quaff the mawkish contents of a cursed open aqueduct, exposed to all manner of defilement and impregnated with all the filth of the town.

"As for the intoxicating potion sold as wine, it is a vile, unpalatable and pernicious sophistication, balderdashed with cider, corn-spirit and the juice of aloes.

"The bread is a deleterious paste, mixed up with chalk, alum and bone ashes, insipid to the taste and destructive to the constitution.

"The table beer, guiltless of hops or malt, is vapid and nauseous. The tallowy, rancid mass called butter is manufactured of candle grease and kitchen stuff. The fresh eggs were fresh once.

"The greens are boiled with brass halfpence in order to improve their color, while the pickles, though very inviting to the eye, are often insupportably rank to the taste, the reason being that in their case also the housewife has boiled a shilling's worth or two of halfpence or a pound brass weight in the vinegar."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

GEORGIA MINSTRELS

The extreme longevity of Richards & Pringle's Famous Georgia Minstrels is the best evidence of its worth, For over a quarter of a century the public has been amused by these dusky entertainers. Never in the history of the "Georgias" has there been such a program of good things offered as will be seen at the Alhambra Theater Monday, November 18th.

A big new "First Part," arranged by Clarence Powell, lively with bright, new jokes and repartee, lively music, handsome costumes, beautiful scenery and the latest in all songs and music.

Ten new vaudeville acts will be seen in the olio, concluding with the latest absurdity. "Jim Jackson."

There will be no long waits between acts. The curtain will never fall until the final act on the program.

"There is more fun than a circus," is what is claimed for the "Georgias."

WORKING A SWINDLE.

Clever Scheme Carried Through by a Plausible Woman.

An elegantly dressed Spanish lady one day visited a specialist in mental diseases in Madrid on behalf of her husband, who, she said, was a sufferer from religious mania. Having explained the case, it was arranged that she should return in about an hour with the afflicted husband.

The lady's next scene of action was a jeweler's shop in another part of the city, where she selected diamonds to the value of $5,000 on the understanding that she would buy them if her husband approved. Would some one accompany her home in a cab and the money would be paid immediately? A trusted clerk was sent, and with him the lady drove back to the doctor's house. In an anteroom she took the stones "just to show them to her husband." Then, entering with sublime assurance the doctor's study, she informed the specialist that her husband was now in the anteroom and ready to be examined.

Leaving a visiting card, the lady took her departure, and the doctor, bidding the supposed patient enter, proceeded at his leisure to ask professional questions. The jeweler's man was puzzled at first, but soon he realized that he had been made the victim of a clever fraud. The doctor, however, interpreted his agitation as caused by his complaint, and when after two hours matters were finally explained the lady impostor had vanished with her spoils without leaving any trace.—London Tit-Bits.

THE THIRD HOUSE.

Legislative Annex of the Special Interests In Congress.

The third house, as the lobby is sometimes called, is the legislative annex of the special interests. It is the house of special representatives, and its membership is a curious study in the widely different.

Its meeting place is the lobby and committee rooms of the nation's capitol, the hotel rotunda, the lawyer's office, the street, the banquet room, the little back room, the bar, the road house, the home, the brothel—anywhere the legislator may be found and personally approached. That is the object of a lobby—personal contact with the people's representatives and the influence upon legislation worked thereby.

If legislators were perfect, there would be no lobby. If they were perfectly wise, there would be no occasion for the lobbyist who desires "to inform" them; if perfectly honest, there would be no occasion for the lobbyist who desires to "make it worth while;" if perfectly patriotic, there would be no occasion for the lobbyist who desires for himself "a little personal favor"—at the people's expense. The existence of a lobby is premised on human frailty. It is present to prey on human weakness, to warp the action of the legislative body by appeal to vanity, ignorance, cupidity or fear.—Gilson Gardner in Success Magazine.

Near Glory.

"Most any of us," remarked Uncle Gilderoy Skite, "kin reach fur enough to touch the hem of the mantle of fame. Abraham Lincoln used to split rails fur a man that a cousin of mine only twict removed on the mother's side afterward stole a dog offen."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Misused Wife.

A lady complained to the Willesden magistrates the other day that her husband "wiped his feet on her and walked over her." It is a case of incompatibility of temperament. He should have married a door mat.—London Globe.

Lest He Forgets.

"I am afraid, darling, you will very soon forget me."

"How can you think so? See, I have tied two knots in my pocket handkerchief."—Meggendorfer Blatter.

Provided Already.

Beggar—Kind sir, give me 2 sous for my three children. Kind Sir—That isn't dear, certainly, but I don't think I'll take them. I have four already at home.—Nos Loisirs.

However exalted our position, we should not despise the powers of the humble.—Phaedrus.

REFLECTED GLORY.

It Is Just as Much Fun and Less Trouble Than Real Glory.

It is a profound truth that reflected glory is far better worth having than real glory, as far as the actual fun of the thing is concerned. The man who after much struggling has won through to fame knows all the drawbacks to it and realizes that the game is hardly worth the candle. But the man whose only claim to glory lies in the fact that he is an acquaintance of the famous man has a splendid time, getting most of the kudos with none of the disadvantages. We see a great, good man, let us say Algernon Ashton, and we envy him. But we feel that his position must have its disadvantages. The strain of being universal letter provider to the papers of London must be enormous. Far better the lot of the man who merely knows Mr. Asnton and can call him Algy. Mr. Murphy, the orator, supports this view. "It is well," he says, "sometimes in speaking to treat great men's names familiarly. In bracketing yourself thus with the great men of the world reminds one of an eastern saying that there are only two creatures that can surmount the pyramids, the eagle and the snail." We know of scores of men who have acquired reputations through their friends. It is the simplest thing in the world. The wonder is that everybody does not do it, for it needs but little labor.—London Globe.

THE ISLAND OF FIRE.

Java's Geological Eccentricity the Lake of Boiling Mud.

The greatest natural wonder in Java, if not in the entire world, is the justly celebrated Gheko Kamdha Gumko or "home of the hot devils," known to the world as the "island of fire." This geological eccentricity is really a lake of boiling mud, situated at about the center of the plains of Grobogana, and is called an island because of the great emerald sea of vegetation which surrounds it and gives it that appearance.

The "island" is about two miles in circumference and is situated at a distance of almost exactly fifty miles from Solo. Near the center of this geological freak immense columns of soft hot mud may be seen continually rising and falling like great timbers thrust through the boiling substratum by giant hands and then quickly withdrawn.

Besides the phenomenon of the boiling mud columns, there are scores of gigantic bubbles of hot slime that fill up like huge balloons and keep up a series of constant explosions, the intensity of the detonations varying with the size of the bubble. In times past, so the Javanese authorities say, there was a tall, spire-like columns of baked mud on the west edge of the lake, which constantly belched a pure stream of cold water, but this has long been obliterated, and everything is now a seething mass of bubbling mud and slime, a marvel to the visitors who come from long distances to see it.

Foundation of Japan.

Every Feb. 11 is celebrated in Japan the great annual festival of Kigensetsu, the anniversary of the foundation of the empire by the first emperor, Jimmu-tenno, B. C. 660. The Japanese reckon their present era as from this date, and it was on Feb. 11, 1889, that Mutsuhito, the one hundred and twenty-first of the dynasty, promulgated the present constitution of the empire of Japan, the fundamental principle of which is clearly stated in its first article, "The empire of Japan shall be reigned over and governed by a line of emperors unbroken from ages eternal." The organization of a parliament took place in 1890, which in the Japanese reckoning would be 2550 from Jimmu's setting up his capital at Kashiwara, in the province of Yamato, which is regarded by Japanese historians as the beginning of the empire.

Zephyr, Cipher and Zero.

"Zephyr" and "cipher" and "zero" are words that come to the English from the Arabic "sifr," which meant literally "empty" and so "nothing" and the figure that represents nothing. In mediaeval Latin this figure was called both "ciphra" and "zephyrum," the latter probably from association with "zephyrus" or something even lighter than air; hence through the Italian "zefiro" there is the word "zero" as a doublet with "cipher."

D. E. O'KEEFE.....EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR

The scheme to ask the bay cities to consolidate with San Francisco to make a greater city is meeting with favor on both sides of the bay.

Many of the Chicago water mains are clogged with snails. The French might call this abonanza in meat and drink, but the Chicagoan would prefer frogs' legs.

The latest fine imposed on a railroad forrebating is $330,000. This branch of railway operations is the only one that can be quoted dull, with atendency to dry up.

The American apple crop is reported to be 24,000,000 barrels short of last year's total. If future big apple crops are properly appreciated the failure of 1907 will serve a useful purpose.

The Republicans of Missouri were rather surprised when they carried the state in 1904, but the rate of growth of the party for many years ought to put it on top as a natural result in 1908.

Notwithstanding the stringency of the money market business was never better in Redwood City and there were never so many inquiries for real estate. This City and the whole county has a great future. The opening of Dingee Park will be a big advertisement for this locality.

Governor Gillett has complied with the wishes of the people of the State in calling an extra session of the Legislature to be held next Tuesday mornnig. He gave the matter cool consdieration, which it deserved, and finally consented after all sections were heardfrom. Mr. Gillett is a man of mature judgment, careful and steadfast when he decides on a policy. He is making the best Governor this state has ever had. His firmness in enforcing the law during the car strike in San Francsco has gained him many admirers. He is the right man to have at the helm in a crisis.

Nearly One Ton of Outgoing Mail

That the business of the local postoffice is growing rapidly may be seen by the weight of mail that went through the office during the month of October. Following is the weights.

First-class matter 787 pounds 14 ounces.

Second-class matter 406 pounds ½ ounce.

Second-class matter in the county 254 pounds 6ounces.

Second-class matter 198 pounds 10½ ounces.

Third-class matter 50 pounds 14½ ounces.

Fourth-class matter 77 pounds 8 ounces.

Total for the month of October 1775 pounds 5½ ounces.

Dobbie Reappointed

Congressman Hayes, announced to friends in this City recently that he would reappoint Mr. Dobbel postmaster of Palo Alto. This will be good news to the many friends of Mr. Dobbel in San Mateo County. He was born and raised at Halfmoon Bay and spent his boyhood there. Some years ago he married Miss Neuman of Woodside and has an interesting family. Mr. Dobbel's commission expired some time ago and Mr. Hayes was not inclined to have it renewed but there was such a strong sentiment in the College town in favor ofMr. Dobbel's reappointment that he concluded to keep Dobbel in the place.

Where Does Santos Head In?

Jose Santos, a resident of Redwood City since 1903, has applied to County Clerk Nash to become a citizen. He is a native of Guam and came to this state in 1873 and in 1881 went to the Hawaiian islands and became a citizen of the republic in 1894. The County Clerk was at once puzzled: the question arose as to what race Santos belonged. If a Mongolian, he was not entitled to citizenship. The point was also made as to what country he actually belonged—Guam or the Hawaiian islands; which one would he renounce his allegience to. Mr. Nash at once communicated with the United States District Attorney's office in San Francisco and the followidg letter has been received:

San Francisco, November 9, 1907.—Joseph H. Nash, County Clerk, San Mateo County, Redwood City, Cal.—Dear Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the recipt of your inquiry of November 6th relative to certain native of Guam. The questions put by you are questions of great nicety, and I shall have to ask for further details before venturing to answer the same.

In the case of re Kanaka 6 Utah 259, the Supreme Court of Utah declined the application of a native Hawaiian for admission to citizenship, holding that the applicant was neither a white person nor a person of African race, and that he was for that reason barred under the provisions of section 2169 of the United States revised statutes, which section you will find set forth in the naturalization laws and regulations furnished you in pamhlet form by the department.

Congress, in 1900, expressly declared that all persons who were citizens of the republic of Hawaii on August 12, 1898, are citizens of the United States.

If the native of Guam, to whom you refer, falls in the same class as the native Hawaiians and was not a resident of his native country on April 11, 1899, it is questionable whether he would be entitled to citizenship; and if such are the facts, I would advise you to refuse to issue to him a declaration of intention, which refusal would give him the chance to bring the question to a judicial determination by means of a writ of mandate.

Respectfully,

CARLOS G. WHITE,

Assistant United States Attorney.

Mr. Nash received another communication yesterday from the same office, directing him to refuse to issue Santos a declaration of intention. The matter will no doubt be taken to Washington for final adjustment.

Miss Esther Macomber, head of the elocution department of the University of the Pacific, will give a recital under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal church at the Alhambra, Friday evening, December 13th, at 8 o'clock. MISS OLIVER MARRIED

Former Redwood City Girl

CRANDCHILD OF GEN. CONNOR

Will Depart Next Thursday on Extended Honeymoon Trip to Europe

Miss Joan Oliver and Leo Merle were united in marriage in Holy Cross church, San Francisco, last Tuesday evening. Miss Oliver is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bartley Oliver, and an exceptionally pretty and accomplished girl. She and her older sister, Miss Norah, finished their school days Sacred Heart convent and afterwards traveled abroad for some months. Miss Joan's engagement was announced shortly after their return a year ago, and as Mr. Merle's admiration for her dates from their baby days the news was no surprise. The young couple were married in the presence of several hundred relatives and friends. Miss Oliver's maid of honor was her sister, Miss Norah, and another sister, Miss Kate, were among the four bridesmaids. Mr. Merle was attended by his brother, Martin V. Merle, as best man, and four of his friends acted as ushers. A wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony in the Oliver home on Golden Gate avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Merle departed the following day on their honeymoon, which will be spent in Europe. They will sail from New York next Thursday and visit Paris, Berlin and Rome, spending about a month in each city. They will probably be joined in January by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver and Miss Norah, who plan to leave San Francisco early in the year.

The bride's mother, who was Kate Connor, was raised in Redwood and was the eldest daughter of General Connor, who made his home here. The marriage of Miss Connor and Mr. Oliver in Mount Carmel church was one of the biggest society events in the history of the town and will be recalled by all the old-timers. The Olivers spend their summers at Hoitt's, Fair Oaks, and move in the best of society. Mr. Oliver is known to fame as the foreman of the San Francisco grand jury that indicted the grafters. Martin Merle, brother of the groom, is the author of "Light Eternal," that was so successfuly staged at Santa Clara college a few years ago. The bride is a perfect beauty and inherits her good looks from her mother; who in her girlhood days in Redwood City was known far and wide for her beauty.

Thanksgiving Proclamation

The following Thanksgiving proclamation was received from Governor Gillett by County Clerk Nash yesterday. It is short but to the point.

In obedience to the universal and praiseworthy American custom which long and continuous observance has justified, it becomes incumbent upon me to set apart a day whereon ourpeople may cast aside the cares of life and unite in giving thanks to Amighty God for the manifold blessings enjoyed by them.

During the past year our farmers have gathered most bountiful crops; labor has had continuous employment at the highest wages known in history; business has enjoyed unparalleled prosperity, and our people generally have been happy and contented.

It is therefore meet that we should return thanks to God, the giver of all things, and in pursuance of that purpose and in accordance with the proclamation of the President of the United States, I, J. N. Gillett, Governor of the State of California, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the twenty-eighth day of November, 1907, as a public holiday, that our people may show proper appreciation of Divine favors received and reverently supplicate the continuance thereof.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of State to be hereunto affixed, this 12th day of Novembeer, 1907.

J. N. GILLETT,
Governor of California.

(SEAL)

Attest: C. F. CURRY,
Secretary of State.

CARD PLAYING.

It Brings to Light Many Curious Phases of Human Nature.

Card playing gives an observer an insight into one of the many curious phases of human nature—the almost universal belief in luck even among educated men of more than average intelligence.

One player I knew well—I must admit he also believed in astrology—absolutely refused to play cards during one special month in each year, because he had reason to believe that that month was unlucky to him. Yet he was one of the most level headed card players I have known and in ordinary matters a man of great common sense.

I was at one time intimately acquainted with a club where the stakes played for were comparatively high and where the players were, with hardly an exception, hard headed men who were keen about winning and who were at the same time a singularly social, kindly and liberal minded body of men.

Among the members was a very pleasant, quiet old gentleman whose only occupation was to spend his days at his club, and especially in its card room.

At the period when I first knew him he had ceased playing cards himself, but was extremely fond of watching other people play. He was the most inoffensive of spectators, never made comments or criticisms and simply amused himself in watching the fall of the cards.

Gradually, however, experience showed or was imagined to show that any player whose cards he overlooked held bad hands with, as it was asserted, an extraordinary regularity.

He invariably asked permission before sitting down beside a player, and the moment the player held bad cards he offered, without being asked, to leave the table, an offer which, I am ashamed to say, was invariably accepted.

To put the fact plainly, he was tabooed from watching card playing because he was supposed to bring ill luck by the mere fact of his vicinity.—Pall Mall Magazine.

MARRED THE MUSIC.

Secret of the Poor Performance at a High Class Concert.

"Musical critics sometimes complain of what they call the roughness of an orchestral performance without always considering that the cause may be found in the instruments rather than in the performers." At least so says the leader of a St. Louis organization.

"There was some criticism of the orchestral numbers given at a concert last winter, but I know that the fault was not that of the men so much as of the instruments. Almost every player has at least two, sometimes three or four, instruments, and one at least is the best he can afford to buy. This is especially true in the case of the strings, for accidents will happen, and to be prepared against them string players have usually two or three violins—one for ordinary work, like teaching, dancing and rehearsing, and a superior violin for solos and concerts.

"Now, it happened that on the evening of the concert in question the weather was atrocious. It was snowing and sleeting and raining by turns. A genuine violinist thinks about as much of his best fiddle as he does of his youngest child, and so on the concert night the string player thought to himself that he wouldn't take out his good fiddle. It might get damp or he might fall off the street car with it and smash it to splinters, so he resolved to leave it home and take his everyday fiddle, thinking that in the ensemble nobody but himself would notice the difference.

"But every other string player thought the same thing, so most of them left their best violins at home and brought their practice instruments. The public didn't notice the difference, but the players and the leader did, and in an audience there are always people with almost miraculous ears for variations of tone, and some of these did the complaining."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good!! Hereafter for this very reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

What the Kidneys Do

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Healthy and Strong

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.
W. J. McHarvey, living at 35 Claremont st, Redwood City, Cal., says: "I have known and have been an appreciator of Doan's Kidney Pills for a long time, and am in a position to say that they act up to every claim made for them. I am perfectly willing to have my name used as an endorser of Doan's Kidney Pills."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's, and take no other.
